

Protocol of the World Disability Union

Dealing with people with disabilities In emergency situations

The Union recommends that there be a national registry in every country includes the following:

Name - nationality - type of disability - level of disability - if possible medication type - phone number - ID number - place of residence - the name of the person close to him and his phone number.

By taking the following procedures in emergency cases according to the type of case as follows:

- 1- The decisions issued by the competent authorities in the state of emergency must be communicated in a manner suitable for people with disabilities (sign language - Braille)
- 2- If there is a movement ban in the area where people with disabilities are present, the state must deliver medicines and foodstuffs to a person with a disability in his place and provide any medical services he needs in that period.
- 1- A social and psychological specialist must be provided to communicate with them.

4- Governments have to support centers for people with disabilities in that period so that these centers can take care of their members as much as possible during that time

Emergency cases of accidents in the housing area for people with disabilities

The person with a disability or a person close to him is contacted to give him instructions and directions for the emergency

1- The person with a disability or a person close to him is contacted to give him instructions and directions for the emergency.

2-If the emergency calls for more than a day, then communication will be made to provide health and psychological support for people with disabilities in that region.

3- Specialist need to be able to drive to the person in case of an emergency or transportation needs to be organized for the person in need